Join us for the Up For Arts Club, our regular creative get-together at The Royal British Legion Pop In Centre. You don't need to have any particular skills to take part with materials and equipment all provided. We will be exploring simple and fun ways of being creative. Come along, have a go and meet new people!

On Monday 25 September we will explore simple weaving techniques. This ancient textile technique dates back to the Palaeolithic era. The art of creating a woven surface using a warp and weft can be traced back in many different cultures. Join us to have a go at some simple but addictive forms of weaving!

Up For Arts is a partnership between BBC Radio Merseyside and Voluntary Arts which aims to promote arts and wellbeing in Merseyside. Find out more on Facebook @UpforArts
