

CONTEMPORARY THREADS

invites you to an illustrated talk by

LEAH HIGGINS

MY ROAD TO RUIN(S)

Tuesday January 15th 2019
7.30 pm

All Hallows Church Centre
1, Greenhill Road
Mossley Hill
LIVERPOOL L18 6JJ

Textile artist, printmaker and teacher, Leah Higgins, of Urban Studio North will be talking about her creative journey from her first traditional patchwork quilts through creating more contemporary pieces to developing her Ruins series of abstract art quilts and more. Leah will share her experiences of City and Guilds and other workshops and their influence on how she works today. There will be a range of quilts on display, quilts and samples that can be handled and an opportunity to ask questions. For more details of her work, see <https://www.leahhiggins.co.uk>

ALL WELCOME

Entrance fee £7 including refreshments

urban studio north

CONTEMPORARY THREADS

Contemporary Threads is a textile arts group based in Liverpool. We are passionate about all things textiles and mixed media. The aim of the group is to provide mutual inspiration for creating beautiful pieces; to encourage each other to stretch ourselves and to share ideas and techniques.

We usually meet on the first Saturday of each month, 10am - 2pm at St Bride's Church, Percy Street, LIVERPOOL L8 7LT for further details, contact Maggie Pearson (Chair) at maggie.pearson1@btinternet.com